WILSON IS GIVEN FULL AUTHORITY TO ADJUST ITALIAN CONTROVERSY

Peace Conference Circles Hopeful Plan to Surmount Difficulty will be Submitted Next Week

ITALY'S ACTION ULTIMATUM

Italian Public Insistent That Delegates Obtain Fiume

(By Associated Press)
Paris, March 22.—Hope was expressed today in peace conference circles that by the first of next week a plan would be presented which would surmount the difficulty in the way of completion of the peace making work of the conference, raised by the threat of Italy to withhold approval of any peace treaty not definitely settling the Italian-Jugo Slav controversy.

President Wilson has the whole question before him and it is upon him that the plan rests upon which hope is based for a satisfactory settlement.

The action of the Italian delegation taken as a unit amounting virtually to an ultimatum directed to the supreme council gave great concern to other delegations today.

Although the supreme council was occupied with a consideration of the western Polish boundary, the premiers themselves were engaged in trying to find some solution to the difficult problem presented by the action of the Italians.

The state of mind of the Italian public is declared to be such that the failure of the Italian delegation to return from Paris with title to Fiume and the Dalmatian Islands might easily have grave internal results.

COMMISSION TO VISIT THE HOLY LAND FOR PROBE

Months to Elapse Before Definite Action Can be Taken Toward Solution of Ottoman Problem

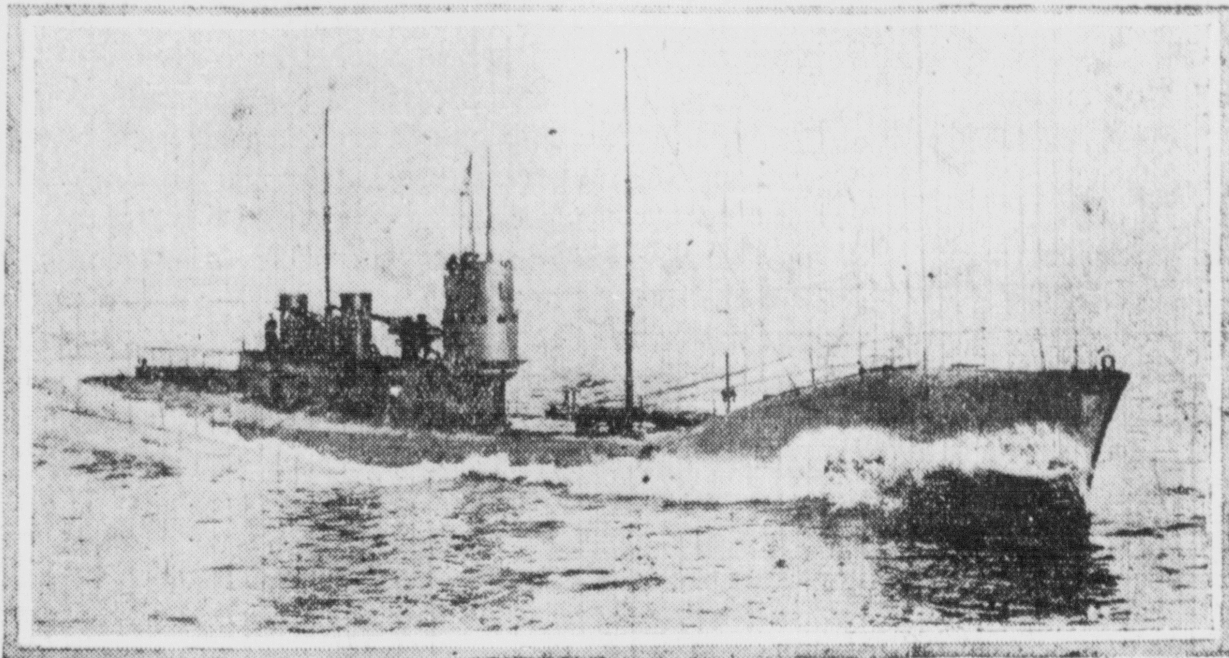

(By Associated Press)
Paris, March 22.—After a conference at the residence of Premier Lloyd George yesterday at which General Allenby, commander of the British forces in Palestine was present, it was decided to return to the suggestion made by the American delegation and send an inter-allied commission to study on the spot not only the problems in Palestine and Syria, but in Ottoman Asia as a whole.

Therefore the attribution of mandates for Ottoman Asia cannot be decided upon before the return of the commission several months later.

POMERENE SAYS HE WILL SUPPORT THE LEAGUE PACT

Ohio Senator Declares He is for League Whether Changed or Left Untouched insists That Critics Have Not Suggested a Better Plan

(By Associated Press)
Cleveland, O., March 22.—Speaking here today in support of the league of nations Senator Pomerehne, of Ohio, democrat and member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that while preferring amendment of the proposed constitution so as to make it more definite and specifically exempt from its provisions the Monroe Doctrine, he would support it whether changed or left untouched. The address was delivered before the Cleveland City Club.

"Whatever of imperfections there may be in the proposed league of nations, I submit that up to date no better plan has been proposed by any of the critics of the measure. They and we hope that some way may be devised whereby to prevent war in the future."

"The opponents have pointed out some defects in this plan; but they give nothing constructive to take their place and we may say as we choose, the world will not forgive those in authority if they do not exert themselves to the utmost to bring about some plan which will give promise and hope for the future."

Discussing recommendations made by Senators Lodge and Knox, republicans, that consideration of plans be deferred until after peace has been established, he said the league and peace treaty were so intertwined that one without the other would be useless.

(By Associated Press)
Washington, March 22.—A report of progress on army demobilization made public today by the War Department shows a total of 1,475,256 men discharged to date. Orders have been issued for demobilization of 1,428,600.

JUST A YEAR AGO TODAY

On Saturday, March 23, 1918, The Herald carried the following news dispatch headlines:

"Terrific German attacks break thro' British lines. First time the defense lines on the Western front have been broken. Fifty full divisions massed by the Teutons for the attack and half as many more in reserve behind the lines. British forces are falling back to prepared defenses in the rear in good order."

"Germans Shell Paris." (Under this heading the following "unbelievable" dispatch was carried): "Paris, March 23.—The Germans have been firing on Paris with long range guns. Since eight o'clock this morning shells of 240 millimeters have been reaching the capital, separated at intervals of 15 minutes, killing about ten persons and wounding fifteen. The shortest distance from Paris to the front is over 100 kilometers, or 62 miles."

"Berlin claims 25,000 prisoners and four hundred guns. Emperor is in command. Vienna claims immense successes."

SPECIAL SESSION OF CONGRESS IN MAY

Indications Point to Calling of Special Session About May 15th When President Wilson Expects to be Home

WILSON TO MAKE TOUR

President Keeping in Touch With Sentiment of People Regarding the League Plans

Senate May be Called Earlier Than Lower House

(By Associated Press)
Paris, March 21.—A special session of both houses of the American Congress probably will be called to assemble about the middle of May, the date when President Wilson hopes to return to the United States.

It is possible that if the treaty of peace is sufficiently advanced to warrant such a course a special session of the Senate may be called even earlier to afford it opportunity to deal with this subject before being called upon to direct its attention to other important matters.

It is held to be unnecessary for President Wilson to be in Washington when the call for such a special session is issued for this may be called from Paris in advance of his departure.

Mr. Wilson, however, has reached no decision regarding the question and is reserving the shaping of his course of action until he has a more definite idea of the date of his return to America.

The President is also keeping in touch with the development of sentiment in the United States toward a league of nations. If the situation appears to him to demand such action it is not unlikely that shortly after his return from Europe he will make an extended speaking tour presenting his view of the issue directly to the voters in the states whose senators are opposed to ratification of the league plans.

PRESIDENT THE POSTAL TELEGRAPH DISMISSED

Postmaster General Burleson Removes Officers Declaring They Had Failed to Obey Orders

KANSAS CITY MAN NAMED Officials Did Not Put Wage Scales and Eight Hour Day Into Effect Promptly, is Claim

(By Associated Press)
Washington, March 22.—Clarence H. Mackay, president of the Postal Telegraph and Cable Company was removed today by Postmaster General Burleson.

The Postmaster General issued an order relieving besides Mr. Mackay, W. P. Cook, general counsel; W. M. Deegan secretary and the board of trustees or directors and the owner of the Mackay companies operating the Postal System from all duties appertaining to the service under government control.

A. F. Adams, president of the Kansas City Home Telephone Company was appointed to succeed the Postal officers in management of the system. Mr. Adams presented the order today and took over control.

An announcement by the Post Office Department says the order removing the officials was made necessary by the fact that since the Post Office Department refused to grant the company the compensation asked for by them these officials have refused or failed to follow out the instructions of the department in the management of the properties and failed to put into operation promptly the wage schedule and the eight-hour day; and in various ways endeavored to embarrass and discredit the government operation of the wires.

SWISS SUBMIT A NEW PROPOSAL

(By Associated Press)
Paris, March 22.—Because of President Wilson's desire to attend the session of the supreme council and league of nations commission, today's peace program was reversed. The council met at eleven o'clock and the league of nations at three.

In connection with the league of nations commission to consider the various amendments to the league's covenant, which have been proposed, the text of an amendment proposed by the Swiss delegates was considered. This amendment is said to apply tacitly to the Monroe Doctrine although no specific mention is made of it.

The memorandum is supported by the Austrian delegation, he reports.

MINSTRELS AND CARNIVAL PROVE HIGHLY POPULAR

Sophomores Score Decided Hit and Large Number of Citizens Enjoy Jolly Entertainment Provided.

Snug Sum Is Realized For Class Memorial to be Installed in High School Building.

The local High School history, with all its many popular entertainments, does not record any thing at all akin to the Carnival and Minstrels given by the Sophomore Class Friday night. It was decidedly new, it was highly successful and most elaborately planned and carried out, winning plaudits galore for the class.

It was also splendidly patronized, the big High School building swarming with people who enjoyed it all immensely; took in the entertainment in the gym, fished in the fish pond, had their fortunes told, visited over the tea cups in the enticing Japanese coffee room and found the "Minstrels" a grand climax of fun and musical pot pourri. Everybody was delighted with the entire affair, recognizing that it means a tremendous amount of work for the Class and much ingenuity. Credit for the idea must be given to Mary Elizabeth Holmes, who suggested a St. Patrick's Carnival and Minstrel in response to calls for suggestions. All the members of the class and indeed the entire High School responded with splendid support and liberal donations for which the class feels deeply grateful. Mrs. Haldee Van Winkle Coffman was general chairman.

The large gymnasium with its side galleries lent itself especially to the entertainment part of the Carnival the crowd seated on the main floor, while the entertainers appeared above. It presented a gay Carnival appearance, with latticed bowers of wisteria and trailing vines and flowers at either end, which proved to be popular home made candy and orangeade booths.

The entertainment here was alone worth the price of admission. Kessler's orchestra played beautifully and the Jazz Orchestra proved immensely popular.

Miss Jessie Sunkle, Miss Dorothy Parrett and Oliver Tracey delighted their listeners with vocal solos, and little Rena Marlier a captivating little French girl called forth great applause in her singing of the "Marseillaise" and, as an encore, a verse of "The Stars and Stripes" in French. Misses Lorie King and Marie Robinson were accompanists.

The crowd lined up in front of the fortune telling booth, in charge of Buddha priests, until it was difficult to get a glimpse of the fascinating fortune tellers, in bizarre oriental costume, who out rived the natives in the sooth-saying.

Mary Elizabeth Holmes, Alice Parrett, Lavon Kelley displayed great cleverness in the roles of fortune tellers and the priests, in typical Hindu garb, were Cline Deere, Heber Deer, Wendel Hays and Howard Davis.

The fish pond drew the young fry like a magnet with John Deen a typical Isaac Walton baiting the outside crowd. Grove Davis was chairman of the fish pond. Cozella Townsley, Mable Melson, Phillip Fry and Fred Jones were in charge of the ice cream and orange ade booth and Helen Durant, Marjorie Klever and Bernadine Norris of the candy booth.

The prettiest place in the whole Carnival was the Coffee tea room, for which the Domestic Science department had been transformed into a scene of picturesque Japanese beauty. Mellow light poured through hundreds of Japanese lanterns and spring flowers graced the daintily appointed tea tables, at which pretty girls served delicious dainties and drinks. Maxine Kibbler was chairman of the Coffee room and Marjorie Klever of the kitchen.

Comedy was King in the Minstrel Show, for which the High School Auditorium was crowded and enthusiasm reached the high tide. An assemblage of burnt cork artists in evening dress, the end men conspicuous in white trousers with dark coats, the loudest of neckties and socks and a few extra touches gave a remarkable good minstrel show, especially considering the short time allowed for its preparation. The jokes were actually new and side splitting, the singing both solo and chorus, was exceptional and everything went off with splendid snap and spirit under the able direction of Miss Sheen.

David Craig was fine in his role of interlocutor, dignified and imposing. The end men, Pete Willis, Edwin Shoop, Dick Haynes and Joe Wilson vied with each other for plaudits.

If the popular "Pete" drew the big encore of the evening in his scream of a song "Oh Helen," and was the all round star, "Dick" Haynes ran him a close race for comedian laurels and his "didn't care a rap" air nearly finished the audience. Edwin Shoop and Joe Wilson were "right there" too with the ready joke and side play.

The solos were all taking and splendidly sung by Bernard Smith, Paul Rose, William Henry Edwards, and Arthur Rothrock. Each singer deserved rank in the stellar class.

The cast also included Leroy Thompson, Grove Davis, Donald Moots, Oliver Tracey, Thomas Rogers, Lawrence Beachdell.

One of the hits of the program was made by the wind instrument quartet composed of Arthur Rothrock, David Craig, Dick Haynes and Pete Willis.

Miss Lorie King showed her proficiency as a pianist in the accompaniment. Miss Marion Whelpley accompanied Edwin Shoop.

Besides pleasing the public and bringing glory to the class the carnival and minstrels brought in a generous sum to be used in the purchase of the class memorial, the art work to be placed in honor of the class of 1917 and 1918.

ORGANIZATION OF AUTO CLUB NOW CERTAIN

Meeting Called For Next Tuesday Night and Full Representation of Auto Owners Is Expected.

What Such an Organization Means To City and The Community Generally.

The movement for the organization of an automobile club in Fayette county is taking definite form.

A meeting of automobile owners is to be held next Tuesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. at which time plans will be made and where it is expected the organization set on its feet.

For a long time there has been talk of organizing the automobile owners of Fayette county. There is such an association in nearly all the important counties in the state, and a state association of 48 clubs located in small cities as well as in big ones. The matter has been taken up with representatives of this state body, known as the Ohio State Automobile Association, and it is planned to affiliate the local club with both state and national bodies.

It is the Ohio State Automobile Association which was successful in securing stronger laws on the subject of automobile theft and highway improvement, and which during the present session of the legislature has insistently fought against duplication of taxes on motor vehicles.

It is the contention of the state association officers that if automobiles are taxed more heavily for road purposes that they be removed from the personal property duplicate. The state association is also seeking a change in the traffic law, which would fix a penalty for reckless driving—similar to the New York law—instead of fixing arbitrary speed limits of eight, fifteen and twenty-five miles per hour.

It has been pointed out on several occasions that road and traffic conditions in Fayette county demand the organization of an automobile club, which would protect such interests. In addition to furthering the roads movement and regulating traffic, it has been suggested that if an automobile club in Washington Court House were put on a permanent footing there might be located here a branch of the state automobile department. This obviates sending to Columbus for the number plates, and it would mean that residents of this county, instead of receiving tags by mail from Columbus would come into this city for them. Such branch bureaus are operated by automobile clubs in the other cities and prove not only a great convenience to the automobile owners and dealers, but are also a strong boosting factor for the community.

The movement to launch a club here has strong backing. The meeting called for Tuesday evening, while it has not been widely announced, is expected to bring out representation of those who are right back of the movement and result in the actual formation of the organization.

Once the organization is set under way, general meetings will be held and a wide range of activities undertaken.

PUBLIC UNDERSTANDING OF ELECTRIC RATES

We believe that public understanding of the conditions governing the cost of producing electricity for light and power will enable us to obtain an electric rate in Washington Court House that will be satisfactory to all.

For lack of information many people believe that the lowest rate that can be obtained is the best rate for the public. This is not necessarily true.

When electric rates are so low that they fail to meet the costs of doing business and provide a fair profit, Electric Service is hampered. Anything that hampers Electric Service automatically hampers the City.

In Washington Court House the question of fixing an equitable electric rate has been hanging fire for more than a year and in the meantime the losses have grown serious for the company.

To each individual consumer the increase we ask would be only a matter of cents each month,—in the aggregate it would mean relief from serious and unfair losses to us.

We know that the people of this community do not want their electric current at our expense. But we are not in the position of an ordinary business. If our prices are too low we can not raise them of our own accord. We can not shut up shop and wait for costs to go down. We can not move. Nor can we lower the quality of our service to cut our operating expenses. The present owners of this company came to Washington Court House to stay. We do not speculate. In the ten years that the William A. Baehr Organization has operated and managed public utilities on a large scale, NOT ONE of its properties has been sold.

We can not operate our plant with entire success from the point of view of the public unless you help us. We expect to deserve your co-operation by continuing to render good service, by courteous business methods toward the public, by constructive business policies in public affairs.

We ask that you please read carefully our short series of printed "talks" on electric rates and service as they appear in this newspaper. This is the first of the series. We believe you will find information in these statements that will help you to better understand both sides of this public question.

CAMP SHERMAN WILL BE MADE A PERMANENT SITE

Fairfield Aviation Field Also May be Retained by Government

(By Associated Press)

Washington, March 22. — Camp Sherman, the national army cantonment located at Chillicothe, together with many other similar military posts erected at the beginning of the war, is to be retained by the government as a permanent military post, according to an announcement made by the war department.

An announcement by the war department tonight stated that the site upon which Camp Sherman is located is to be purchased at a cost of $1,150,000. The announcement also disclosed that the total cost of constructing barracks and other necessary buildings and sewage at Camp Sherman to date has been $12,900,000.

The announcement says that the McCook Army Aviation Field at Dayton, which cost $799,753 to construct is to be abandoned. Wilbur Wright Field also near Dayton, is to be retained under lease for temporary storage purposes and later will be abandoned.

Camp Taylor, located near Louisville, Ky., is to be purchased at a cost of $375,000. Construction work there cost the government $8,000,000. Camp Knox, Ky., will be purchased for $2,500,000. Construction work there cost $16,233,188, according to the announcement.

Other national army cantonments to be purchased and continued by the war department are Camp Bragg, N. C.; Custer, Mich.; Devens, Mass.; Dix, N. J.; Dodge, Ia.; Gordon, Ga.;

Grant, Ill.; Jackson, S. C.; Knox, Ky.; Lee, Va.; Meade, Md.; Pike, Ark.; Upton, N. Y.

All obligations of the war department will be paid, Acting Secretary Crowell announced today, in spite of the failure in Congress of the big deficiency appropriation bill carrying funds to meet claims amounting to millions of dollars.

IOWA GOVERNOR IS ACCUSED OF TAKING BRIBE

Farmer Declares State's Chief Executive Took Bribe of $5000 for Releasing Son

(By Associated Press)

Des Moines, March 22.—William Rathbun, a farmer of Ida County, in an affidavit introduced at the Iowa house judiciary committee's investigation of the pardon of his son Ernest, after conviction of criminal assault, declared he gave George Clark his attorney $5000 for the expressed purpose of delivering it to Governor W. L. Harding for the pardon.

The affidavit was presented as evidence by H. M. Havner, state attorney general, the first witness called today. It was dated February 25th, 1919, and was dictated in the presence of five other members of the Rathbun family, the affidavit states.

Seven affidavits in support of the claims of the state in connection with the granting of the pardon were presented by Mr. Havner. Two were signed by William Rathbun, sr., two by Ernest Rathbun, one by William Rathbun, jr., one by Fred Rathbun and one by A. C. Johnson, Ida Grove, attorney.

Havner testified he went to Governor Harding Dec. 31, 1918, and when he asked the governor about the Rathbun pardon the chief executive asked:

"Why are you sticking your nose into this matter?"

The witness said he then told the governor he would endeavor to set aside the pardon on the grounds of fraud, and subsequently did succeed in re-arresting the youth, on the ground that the governor had exceeded his authority in granting a pardon without action by the state pardons board.

The governor branded the charges as preposterous.

EXPECT AIRPLANE TO REACH HERE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

According to the State War Savings Stamp Headquarters, the airplane which is expected to pull off stunts over this city Sunday should reach here some time in the afternoon.

But the airman has a busy day before him. He is at Marietta now, and will make the towns of Logan, New Lexington, Lancaster, Circleville, Washington, Wilmington, Xenia, and probably some others, so that his performance is expected to be rather brief, and he probably will just "hit the high places."

Arrangements have been made for the flyer to land on the McLean field just south of this city on the Chillicothe pike.

The Electric Company

The local electric company presents, in this issue, the first of a short series of statements. The object is to acquaint the people of Washington with the facts upon which the company justifies its request for an increased rate to the consumers of the city.

Recently the supreme court of the state, on application of the city, reversed the order of the utilities commission, allowing the local company to increase its rates—the court holding that the rates having been fixed by council, while not expressly accepted by the company, yet the action of the company in furnishing light and power to the consumers, had impliedly accepted and was bound to abide by the rates fixed about three years ago.

All of which indicates that unless council changes the rates the company is powerless to obtain relief. The contention is that the price schedule fixed three years ago does not provide, in view of increased cost of production, a "living" revenue for the company.

While the light company does not so announce, it seems fair to presume that the series of talks to the people is to be followed by an application to council.

We hold no brief for the light company. We know nothing about the merits of its contention. The indications are, though, that if the company has a meritorious claim it is proceeding along the right line—going to the people with the facts.

Every citizen should read the statements of the electric company carefully. We must not jump to conclusions lest we do ourselves, as well as others, injustice.

Every citizen should acquaint himself with the facts and then be guided by the same high standard of fairness which we insist that the public service companies observe.

The people of Washington have no more desire to do an injustice to the company than they have to permit the company to do injustice to them.

Read the statements and then when council is requested to act it will be able to act more confidently with the security which an intelligent public opinion furnishes.

Citizens, after they have read these statements and others that may be made by citizens will be in better position to advise and criticize.

Not a Smaller Congress

The final chapter of filibuster, refusal to enact legislation vital to the conduct of the government, and childish exhibitions of jealousy and hate which the sixty-fifth congress wrote into its long record, is again reviving the demand for a legislative body smaller numerically, but greater in quality of men composing it.

The same influences which operate to send inferior men to a numerically large congress will send inferior men—men of small caliber—to a congress the number of the members in which has been reduced.

We can't see that that would reach the root of the trouble at all. There are enough big, able, patriotic men in this nation to maintain a legislative body of four hundred and twenty members. The mental caliber of the membership need not be inferior simply because the legislative body is large numerically.

The solution is wholly in the hands of the voters. As long as they nominate and elect inferior men to congress we are going to have unsatisfactory records of service to face.

When the voters lay aside partisan prejudices, personal likes and dislikes and choose their congressmen because of their ability and honesty then we will have a legislative body, be it large or small, of which we can be proud and which will not place the American people in a false attitude before the world.

After all is said and done congress is representative of the voters. An inferior congress—a congress, the membership of which is lacking in breadth of vision and independent, sensible, practical patriotic force—indicates that the voters are on a par.

It does no good to complain about the ridiculous antics of a "light weight" congressman that we vote for simply because he is on our party ticket. The voters responsible for his presence in congress are the ones to be censured.

No, we don't need a smaller congress; but we do need better congressmen.

POEM FOR TODAY

THE ORCHESTRA

They gather—men of differing lands and kinds—
 Comrades, who separate, alone intent
 Each on the key-note of his instrument,
 Till, 'mid the discords, each the true note finds.
 Straightway, attuned as one, their several minds
 To one harmonious purpose jointly bent,
 Their every tone is with its fellows blent,
 And part to part melodiously binds.

Even so, amid the clash of clamorous needs,
 God's truth attains athwart all wrangling creeds.
 Even so, that wars forevermore may cease,
 Building the future on a ruined past,
 Mankind, united, shall evoke at last
 The World's immortal Symphony of Peace.

LET'S TALK IT OVER—BY HAL COFFMAN

WOULD YOU HIRE YOURSELF?

Are you thinking about asking for a raise? Before you do think it over and take a look at yourself. If you were boss—would you hire yourself? How much interest do you take in your work? Do you keep yourself fit so as to do your work the best you know how? You may figure yourself as just working for someone—so many hours a day and so much for doing it. If you are, you are all wrong. You are working for YOURSELF, no matter what your job. The better you do it the more chance of eventual independence. Think it over.

BASEBALL OUTLOOK FOR THE SUMMER

At present there seems to be some possibility of a baseball club for Washington the coming season. The public mind has naturally diverted to athletics after the strain of war and it is expected the great American game will be put back on a firmer basis than ever before.

The club is at present in debt to the extent of about $700 which was incurred chiefly in the building of the new grandstand, and unless the club is taken over by individual backers, the stockholders will be assessed the required sum, it is understood.

The prospects for a successful season are encouraging and the local fans are hoping to see the city represented by a team such as Washington boasted "before the war."

News of Interest to Women

The St. Patrick's dance, given by the University Club at the K. of P. Castle Friday night proved itself a very pretty one and a very merry one with sixty-five couples participating, and everything moving off smoothly for the pleasure of the guests.

The bright green and symbols of Ireland's patron saint were effectively introduced in the decorations, of which effective features were the St. Patrick's streamers from the center and the moon high over the dancers.

Cole's Jazz orchestra of Columbus, a splendid four piece orchestra, played with fine rhythm and plenty of "pop" its fox trots and waltzes especially popular. The orchestra was also unusually liberal with encores. Punch was served throughout the evening.

A large number of out of town people attended, representing Columbus, Chillicothe, Wilmington, Hillsboro, Circleville, London, Frankfort, Greenfield, Williamsport and New Holland.

Robert Craig and John Browning managed the affair capably.

Royal Chapter No. 29, O. E. S., has made splendid showing in its work for Devastated France, during the short month of effort. The women have loyally given of their time each Friday afternoon and on the fifth Friday, yesterday, the fifteenth comfort was completed.

The comforts are beautifully made and the chapter may well take pride in their contributions. They have indulged in no social features, giving their labors purely for love of the cause.

They are also making two comforts for other charities.

The committee in charge was composed of Mrs. Glenn Rodgers, chairman, Mesdames A. E. Henkle, Howard Engle S. A. Murry, Orme Brown, Miller Minter, W. H. Wills, W. H. Hay, W. L. Herron, Wheeler Bay.

Included in the social calendar of the past week was an elaborate dinner given by the girls of Chi Delta Chi Club at the home of Miss Helen Durant.

The club colors, green and white, were prettily carried out in an attractive center piece of Daffodils and fern.

The guests were confined to members of the club and included, Misses Durant, Ruth Brown, Mary Hanna Bliss, Isabelle O'Neal, Rosalie Slagle, Eleanor Jones, Jocelyn Bowen, Helen McKee and Jessie Sunkle.

DEATH CLAIMS AFTER FIVE YEARS OF ILLNESS

Mrs. Ruby Knight Shellabarger passed quietly away at half past nine o'clock Friday evening at 905 home on Fayette street, where she and her mother have resided since returning to this city from Kansas City, Mo., two years ago.

Mrs. Shellabarger was a granddaughter of the late Hon. James Purcell, one of Washington's leading pioneer residents, and most of her younger life was spent in Fayette county and its county seat. Fourteen years ago she accompanied her family to Kansas City, Mo., where she was married to Cyrus W. Shellabarger. She is the last of her immediate family to answer the eternal summons, leaving her mother bereft of all her children, with one sister, Miss Sallie Purcell, of this city, and one brother, Mr. Charles Purcell, of Boise, Idaho, surviving.

For the past five years Mrs. Shellabarger has been an invalid. Before that she was fond of life and its interests and devoted to her friends, adding to those of this vicinity new ones in the later home in Kansas City.

Funeral services will be held at the home Monday at 2:00 p. m., Rev. Cherrington officiating. The interment will be made in the Purcell lot in the Washington cemetery.

$20,000 DAMAGES ASKED OF PENNSY. FOR TWO DEATHS

Grade Crossing Tragedy Oct. 21, 1917, Basis For Suit Against Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

Three Persons Were Killed Near New Holland.

In the common pleas court today two suits, each for $10,000 damages, and each making the Pennsylvania Railroad Company defendant, were filed, the first by Marie Cook, of this city, daughter and administrator of the estate of Mrs. Ella E. Cook, and second by John Austin Louderman as administrator of the estate of Mrs. Edna Stookey, the 2 women having been killed when their automobile was struck on the William crossing near New Holland on the night of October 21, 1917. Mr. Alfred Stookey husband of Mrs. Stookey, was killed at the same time. S. S. Burtfield and Gregg, Patton and Gregg represent the plaintiffs in the actions.

The wording of the suits is very similar and the defendant is charged with negligence. Plaintiffs claim that the defendant company was negligent in failing to blow the whistle as required; failed to sound the bell as a warning, or give other warning of the train's approach, and that regardless of the fact that there are several crossings within a short distance that defendant was operating the train at excessive speed, going at a rate of speed said to be 60 to 65 miles per hour.

ASKS DIVORCE

In Common Pleas Court Elva Scott has filed action for divorce from Alton Scott. The plaintiff charges the defendant with gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. The plaintiff also demands alimony of the defendant. Plaintiff is represented by Rankin and Rankin. The couple were married in Wilmington on May 28, 1913.

URGENT APPEAL FOR DISCARDED CLOTHING

Another urgent appeal for discarded men and women's clothing is put out by the Red Cross in behalf of European refugees. Colonel Harvey D. Gibson, former Red Cross commissioner for France, has sent a message to national headquarters in America, saying:

"These refugees have been in rags and almost destitute for clothing for several years. In many of the countries, even if clothing could be manufactured and paid for, material is totally lacking. The need is great to a degree that few at home can possibly realize. Every garment furnished will cover a body which otherwise would lack proper clothing, and each garment will actually prevent suffering."

Send clothing to local Red Cross rooms Thursdays, Fridays and Saturday of next week.

Was Sniper With Marines and Life Was Saved at One Time When Hun Prisoner Gave Him Pint of His Own Blood.

Wounded eight times, blinded for nine days and his back blistered by the awful German mustard gas, taken from the operating table supposedly dead and left to grow cold before being buried, losing his left leg above the knee, life saved by transfusion of blood from a German prisoner, and long weeks of suffering in hospitals crowded with wounded and short of nurses. These are some of the experiences of Rudolph Wolfe, who recently returned to this city after seeing service with the U. S. Marines—"Devil Dog," who covered himself with honors in pushing the Huns back out of France.

able, and he was laid aside to wait until he grew cold before being buried. However, he showed signs of reviving, and volunteers were called for to furnish a pint of blood for saving his life.

A German prisoner volunteered—because it meant a few days layoff from work. The German allowed a pint of his blood to be transfused into the veins of Wolfe. This saved his life for the time being. Subsequent hemorrhages made it necessary to call for another transfusion and American soldiers gave up a pint and a half of their blood. The leg was then removed, having become infected.

On October 4th he was transferred to another hospital, and at one time his wound went undressed for six days, due to transfer and shortage of nurses. The shortage of nurses in the hospitals caused great hardships, and many men, sorely wounded, went for days without proper attention, one nurse to four to six wards and 60 men in a ward, being the ration in the hospitals at that time.

Wolfe sailed for America January 20 and at Brooklyn underwent another operation when one and one quarter inches of the bone of his leg was cut off to insure a better stump.

At the present time he is in an eastern hospital to be equipped with an artificial leg. When he returns to this city it is expected that he will resume his former position with the Dahi-Campbell Branch, where he held a responsible position before enlisting in the Marines on May 28, 1917.

The organization with which he fought was the 78th Company, 6th Marines, Second Division—the division that won more than double the number of D. S. C.'s than any other division, and had greater losses than any other division in the service.

Soon after enlisting Wolfe was transferred to Paris Island, S. C., where he was drilled, and reached France in January, 1918. His first actual service came on March 17th and lasted until May 13th. This was in the Toul sector.

At Cantigny and Montdidier on May 28th, 29th and 30th this organization was held in reserve back of the French. On the 31st of May they were loaded into trucks and rushed to Belleau woods, for the turning point of the war. They went into action June 1st and for 15 days saw the hardest kind of fighting.

Wolfe qualified as a sharpshooter and was placed at work sniping. This is the most dangerous work imaginable, and necessitated his crawling into No Man's Land before dawn, picking off Germans whenever possible during the day, and crawling back under cover of darkness.

It was while engaged in this work that Wolfe killed five Germans. Four of these were operating a machine gun and were picked off one at a time. A patrol after darkness found the four dead Germans, and brought in the machine gun.

At another time in Belleau woods a burly German was about to get the best of a small Yankee in a bayonet duel, and three shots from Wolfe's automatic sent the German to his happy hunting grounds.

"I think I bagged several other Huns, but I am dead sure of five," says Wolfe.

Had meat, green bread and other food to match were mentioned by Wolfe, who stated that owing to the bad conditions hampering the supply branch of the service, the men were often hungry, without water for a day at a stretch, and had food that was anything else but pure and wholesome. Meat out of the refrigerator eight or ten days, bread five to eight days old, and potatoes with their jackets on were common during their hardest fighting, he explained. Pure water was a luxury part of the time.

Regarding the American shotgun, which was so feared by the Germans, Wolfe declared that it, backed by the American daring, was very successful in keeping No Man's Land free of the enemy, and that a yelp usually followed a shot from the gun.

Men blown to atoms by heavy explosives, mangled in the most horrible manner conceivable, were mentioned by him.

At Belleau woods, where the Germans came in ten successive waves, and each wave was shattered and broken and the remnants forced back, Wolfe insists the sight was most inspiring. It was while waiting for the Huns here that Lieut. Col. Wise, when ordered by the French to fall back, replied, "Fall back, Hell! We've just got here!"

It was this spirit that put the Huns to rout and turned the tide of the war, declared Wolfe.

NEW HOLLAND HAS ANOTHER FIRE AT EARLY HOUR TODAY

Two Story Brick Structure Containing The Modern Woodmen's Hall, Dr. Davis' Office and Red Cross Work Room Destroyed.

Structure Probably Will be Replaced by More Modern Structure.

New Holland was visited by fire early Saturday morning and a two-story brick structure on North Main street was entirely destroyed by fire, together with everything it contained, and the volunteer fire fighters had hard work saving adjoining residence properties, which were damaged by the flames.

The structure destroyed was located near the post office, and contained the Modern Woodmen's hall, the office of Dr. Charles Davis, and the Red Cross workrooms.

The fire was not discovered until virtually the entire interior was a mass of flames and the fire was ready to break forth through the roof, so that it was impossible to remove anything of value, and attention was turned to saving the residence of Geo. Riley on the north side of the burning building and the C. V. Stebbins residence on the south side, between the burning building and the brick structure containing the post office.

How the fire originated is not known, but it was evident that it had started somewhere near the center of the building and probably had been smoldering for some time before it was discovered.

The loss to the Woodmen and Dr. Davis will be heavy, as they were not heavily insured. The Red Cross loss was not so heavy, although will be keenly felt.

The structure was owned by J. B. Parker and his loss will be considerable. It is expected that the structure will be rebuilt by a more attractive and substantial structure.

The residences on both sides of the structure were damaged to some extent, and all household effects were removed as a precautionary measure.

The fire fighters of the town again covered themselves with honors, as they labored under great difficulty in their efforts to save adjoining property.

NEW WHEAT PEST MAKES APPEARANCE IN GREENE COUNTY

From Greene county comes report of a new wheat pest which is causing considerable damage to wheat in some parts of that county. Whether this pest has appeared in Fayette county is not known, no reports of such appearance having been reported up to the present time.

Concerning the new pest in Greene county the Xenia Gazette says:

"Many of the wheat fields in Greene county have been attacked the past winter by a wheat disease known as Septoria Leaf Spot. This malady harms the leaves of the wheat at this time of the year. It shows up as a yellow spot about half an inch long at the start, this spot being dotted in the center with small black spots which are the fruiting bodies of the fungus. Later on the whole leaf and perhaps the whole plant may become affected."

"This disease has succeeded in killing off the wheat in small patches in many fields, in other fields the damage is not so great, so that at this time nothing can be said as to the extent of its damage."

"Inasmuch as no control methods have been worked out for this disease no definite instructions can be given concerning it."

"Prof. W. G. Stover Extension Plant Pathologist of the Ohio State University, is working on the control methods of the disease at present, in cooperation with the County Agent."
